ANOTHER DEFECT FOUND.

Too Difficult to Amend.

Senator La Follette of Wisconsin o fered a resolution yesterday proposing an amendment to the Constitution, proan amendment to the Constitution, providing an easier method for amendin the Federal charter.

The resolution proposes the eighteently amendment to the Federal Constitution providing that hereafter the Constitution may be amended by a vote of a majority of the States, with a majority of th electors in each supporting the amend-ment, provided that a majority of all the electors voting on the amendment express themselves in favor of it.

The La Follette resolution also pro-vides that amendments to the Federal Constitution shall be submitted for ratification by the States when proposed by a majority vote of both Houses of C gress, or upon the application of Legislatures of ten States in the or upon a majority vote by the electors of ten States in the Union.
